SECOND STAGE IN ATTACK

ADVANCE IN SICILY CONTINUES

Bridgeheads Established: Allied Troops Driving Inland

NAVIES LAND FURTHER TROOPS AND STORES

LONDON, July 11.

A 'communique' from Gen Eisenhower's Headquarters reports that in Sicily good progress has been made and advance continues.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa:— Allied assault forces completed the initial landings on Sicily, without the loss of any ships. The vessels completed their hazardous mission without encountering either submarine or other attacks.

LANDINGS NEAR GELA

Allied Headquarters in North Africa:— It is officially announced that the Allies have made landings in the neighbourhood of Gela in Sicily.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 11:— American troops with naval support have broken through enemy trench positions at Gela, it is officially announced here.

BRIDGEHEAD SET UP, 50 MILES WEST OF GELA

LONDON: The Algiers radio on Sunday night announced that Canadian troops have established an important bridgehead 50 miles west of Gela in Sicily. The advance continued according to plan, it was added.

LANDING NEAR PACHINO

The Algiers radio stated on Sunday night that Canadian troops have landed near Pachino in the south-eastern tip of Sicily

ALLIES OCCUPY BEACHES OF S. SICILY

From Reuter's special correspondent at Allied Headquarters in North Africa July 11:

The beaches of Southern Sicily are ours. Our troops are moving on after a night of spectacular air activity which this vast armada watched off the Sicilian coast, assault troops rushed the beaches in the face of machine-gun fire and some shelling. Overhead dog fights are going on, and occasional attempts are being made to strafe us. The troops are almost in holiday spirits.—

TARGETS AT AVOLA, NOTO & SAN PAOLO ATTACKED

CAIRO, July 11: To-day's Middle East Air 'communique' announces, "Yesterday heavy bombers of the Ninth United States Air Force attacked marshalling yards at Catania. Other formations bombed the aerodrome at Vibo Valentia in Italy. Hits were scored on the landing ground and hangars and aircraft on the ground were set on fire. During the night of July 9-10, heavy bombers of the R. A. F. attacked targets at Avola, Noto and San Paolo.

ARRAGONA, CANICATTI, & LICATA CAPTURED?

Reuter's special correspondent in Stockholm, on Sunday cabled this report which hitherto entirely unconfirmed and to be taken with reserve: The German underground radio was quoted in to-day's "Social Demokraten" for the report that the Allies have occupied Arragona, Canicatti and Licata in Sicily. The report added: "Fighting is raging for Ragusa which is defended by 30,000 German under Marshal Kesselring. Apparently these are anti-aircraft and ground personnel. Telephone and telegraph between Sicily and the mainland are cut off."

ALLIED NAVIES' PART

Allied Headquarters in North Africa:— A 'communique' on Sunday afternoon announces. "With all beaches firmly held and all troops advancing the Allied navies most important part during the day was the landing of further troops with their vehicles, guns, fuel equipment and stores. This important work proceeded satisfactorily in spite of a seething swell on some of the beaches. The navies' primary duty of getting the army safely on the shore continues without intermission.—

Fighting which at the outset was confined to roads and plains will possibly extend to the mountains were the British-American experience in Tunisia will be very useful. Once ashore under cover of heavy naval bombardment, Allied landing forces met and beat off enemy opposition, and then having got their second wind, started advancing. There is no indication how far they have advanced. The weather was against the Allies.

"A SUCCESSFUL DAY"

An Allied military spokesman commenting on the special communique on Saturday night expressed the progress made in the course of Saturday in these simple words "on the whole it has been a successful day". Preliminary landings were made along 100-mile stretch of the coastline on the coastline on the east and south sides of the island.

Allied advance troops who are driving inland from the bridgeheads, are believed to be astride the coastal railway south of Syracuse.

CANADIANS ESTABLISH BRIDGEHEAD

LONDON: (From a Special Correspondent with Canadian Forces in Sicily—Saturday—delayed)—behind the enormous naval and air night bombardment, Canadians practically walked into Sicily on Saturday meeting very little determined resistance on their beaches, four miles south-west of Pachino on the southern tip of the island. The Canadians smashed the beach defences as soon as they were set ashore and infantry attacked inland, establishing an extensive bridgehead which was the Canadians' initial task in the Eighth Army invasion plan. Some stubborn resistance had been put up by the Italians north and west of Pachino, and along other sectors of the front, there were heated engagements. A large number of prisoners are being captured. They have been coming back from the front since dawn in batches of 50 or 100, guarded one or two Canadians. So far the Canadian casualties appear to be lightest.

U. S. TROOPS GET ASHORE GELA

LONDON, July 11.—Reuter's Special Correspondent at Allied Headquarters in North Africa cables:—As the Allied bridgehead in the south-western tip of Sicily is firmly established and as the first wave of British and American troops make good progress in their drive inland, details were received at the Allied forces headquarters of our got safely ashore at Gela which lies in Saturday morning. American troops got safely shore at Gela which lies in the immense curve of the bay on the south of the island. They were soon in action as the Axis rushed tanks from the interior to deal with this new threat. The Americans were successfuily in action with this armoured force and were able to consolidate their positions.

UNSERVICEABLE AERODROMES

CAIRO: Air reconnaissance late on Saturday afternoon showed that several main aerodromes in Sicily were unserviceable. At one aerodrome 30 to 50 German aircraft were in their pens apparently unserviceable.

Successful Dropping Of Paratroops

(From Reuter's Special Correspondent at Allied headquarters in North Africa—July 11)—British American paratroops were dropped at 23.20 on Friday night over Sicily. British Glider-borne troops accompanied the paratroops. The gliders cut loose from the big towing planes and floated to the Sicilian soil exactly at the scheduled time. The glider-borne troops moved swiftly to consolidate their positions behind the Axis beach defences. The losses in ferry planes were negligible. Glider and paratroopers arrived some hours before the landing forces. They were followed by troop-carrier planes. So successful was this operation that paratroops dropped before flak began. Glider and troop carrier planes encountered no opposition in the air and, but little anti-aircraft flak.

Later paratroopers were spotted by searchlights and were subjected to some anti-aircraft fire from concealed pill-boxes but their carrier-planes came through the mist at such a low altitude that ground fire was ineffective. The planes dropped their cargoes of heavily armed fighting men from an extremely low altitude.

INVASION OF SARDINIA AND CORSICA IMMINENT

WASHINGTON, July 10

The belief that the invasion of Sardinia and Corsica is imminent is heightened by the White House disclosure of President Roosevelt's remarks at the State Dinner last night.

According to well informed circles operations against Sardinia and Corsica will be undertaken to enable the Allies to launch flanking aerial attacks against Western and Central Italy from strategic bases.

It is believed here that in these operations—and indeed in the operation already under way—armaments hitherto unused will be brought into play.

1,000 PLANES IN ACTION

Gen. Eisenhower is believed to have had nearly a thousand planes in action since the invasion began backed up by strong British and American naval action.

KNOCK-OUT BLOWS ON ENEMY AIRFIELDS

Million And Half Pounds Of Explosives Dropped On Catania

From Reuter's special correspondent at Allied Headquarters in North Africa:— Great formations of all types of aircraft of the North-West African Air Force roared over the south-eastern parts of Sicily throughout Saturday sweeping over the island delivering knock-out blows on airfields, also bombing and strafing, railroads and troops transports. The newest deadly A-36 fighter-bomber carried out more than 100 sorties, bombing, machine-gunning and cannoning targets behind enemy lines, also operating directly in front of Allied front-line troops.

CAIRO: One million and five hundred and ten thousand pounds of high explosives were dropped on Catania in Sicily by heavy bombers during Saturday's daylight attack, says a United States Ninth Air Force 'communique. Widespread damage was caused in marshalling yards. The heavy bombers after attacking Vibo Valentia in Italy left fires burning throughout the target area.

Axis troops killed and wounded, as well as destroyed motor transport, bridges, railway yards, locomotives and barracks were left in the wake of the Allied air assault. The flak was mostly negligible. During the afternoon however the anti-aircraft was more intense and more accurate, the fighters also encountering small arms fire.

Meanwhile waves of fighter-bombers ranged over Central and Southern Sicily every hour of the day from five in the morning onwards without opposition of any kind. The pilots were watching for rail and highway movements of troops and supplies but they found the traffic scarcer than on previous days.

Mitchells bombed lines of communications and troop concentrations at a town in Southern Sicily, and it is reported that barrack areas in the town were well covered with bomb-bursts. A large explosion was seen in the town. The fighter escort said that bombs hit the railway station. The town was left wreathed in smoke. Fighters encountered no flak. Other Mitchells bombed Sciacca on the south coast, carpeting the field with bomb bursts.—Reuter.

Allied Push

WASHINGTON, July 11.

From Reuter's Special Correspondent:—All reports indicate that the second stage in attack on Sicily is now in full swing with Allied advance troops driving inland from the bridgehead at a good pace. They are believed to be already astride the coastal railway south of Syracuse from where they are pushing forward towards Axis gun positions in the hills. There is still no sign of a major Axis counter-attack. The landing of reinforcements and supplies is proceeding unmolested.

FRESH CONTINGENTS BROUGHT UP.

From Reuter's Special Correspondent at Allied Headquarters in North Africa:—

News flashed to the Allied headquarters late this afternoon (Sunday) stated that Allied troops pushing inland are threatening the important coast road which hugs the shore line in the south-eastern corner of Sicily. The road skirts the knot of hills overlooking the plain. The assault is gaining momentum as the Allied navies bring up fresh contingents of troops with their vehicles, guns, equipment and supplies of all kinds. The Allied casualties so far are believed to have been slight. With a bridgehead strongly established in the south-eastern tip of Sicily, the latest official reports state that British, Canadian and American troops are making good progress in the advance inland to-day.—Reuter.

Where Allies Landed

LONDON: Italian circles in Berlin claim that the Allies landed at seven points according to the Berlin correspondent of Stockholm's "Tidningen."

Vichy radio on Saturday quoted a Berlin military spokesman as saying that violent fighting was going on at the present moment in Sicily. The Allies landed between Syracuse and Catania.

Allies Secure Inlet Near Bairoko

Nine Jap Warships Sunk Off New Georgia

Allied Headquarters South-West Pacific: Sunday's 'communique' States:— SOLOMONS: South Pacific Forces: NEW GEORGIA:— Our torpedo dive-bombers with fighter cover attacked the enemy base during the morning, dropping 67 tons of heavy bombs on anti-aircraft positions, the Bivouac and supply areas.

Our ground forces have established a road block on the trail between Munda and Bairoko. Two enemy groups attempting a passage were repulsed with loss of at least 60 known to be dead. Our casualties were light.

Despatches indicate that elements of our forces have secured the Enogai inlet, two miles north-east of Bairoko.

Two enemy fighters and four bombers ineffectively raided an artillery position.

JAP CRUISERS ATTACKED

SOLOMONS SEAS:—At night our medium and heavy bombers attacked forces of light cruisers and destroyers approaching New Georgia, scoring two hits with 500 pound bombs. Further results were not observed.

KOLOMBANGARA ISLAND:—VILA—One of our heavy units in a night raid bombed Vila aerodrome. At dawn our medium bombers escorted by fighters bombed and strafed enemy destroyers beached on the south-west coast of Kolombangara.

GANONGGA ISLAND:—Our medium bombers strafed the enemy outpost at Buri.

NORTHEASTERN SECTOR:—MADANG—Our long range fighters on reconnaissance strafed enemy troops on bridge construction at Naru River.

SALAMAUA:—A large force of medium bombers and attack planes bombed and strafed enemy troop concentrations, installations and supply lines at Malolo, Kela, Salamaua, the Isthmus of Logui and Comiatum.

Jap Naval Reverses

LONDON, July 11: The New York radio stated to-day: "Latest reconnaissance photographs show that nine Japanese warships are lying on the bottom of the sea off New Georgia Island."

ATTACK NORTH OF KULA GULF

From Reuter's special correspondent:—Allied Headquarters South-West Pacific:—The Japanese force of cruisers and destroyers attacked in the Solomons Seas as reported in General MacArthur's "communique" on Sunday was south of Choiseul Bay when first seen by Catalina reconnaissance planes. When last attacked it was east of Kolombangara at the northern end of Kula Gulf.

General MacArthur's spokesman indicated that the composition of the Japanese force was somewhat similar to the Kula Gulf force which had suffered so badly at the hands of the United States naval units last week. Bad weather favoured Japanese movements. The Catalinas several times attacked the convoy before the Liberators dropped 500 pound bombs and scored two hits.

FRONTIER CONGRESS NOMINEES

PESHAWAR, July 10.

The Frontier Congress Parliamentary Board at a meeting held last evening selected candidates for five out of six constituencies where by-elections are taking place.

They are Mohd. Ibrahim Khan KHALIL CONSTITUENCY; Mohd. Yahyajan, formerly Headmaster, Islamia High School PESHAWAR CITY; Lala Kansraj BANNU RURAL; Lala Kewalram BANNU CITY; and Khurshed Ali Khan SUDDAIN AMAZA.

Both the Bannu candidates and Sahab Zada Khurshed Ali Khan are detained under D.I.R.

KHAN SAHIB'S APPEAL

The first public meeting after the nomination of candidates for the by-elections was addressed by the Congress leaders last night in Peshawar City.

Dr. Khan Sahib exhorted the people of the Province to support the Congress candidates. He said "The Congress was fighting for the freedom of the country." He appealed for a better understanding between the Hindus and the Moslems of the Province.

LEAGUE CALLS BIG GUNS

The Muslim League has not yet selected candidates for the PESHAWAR CITY and the AMAZAI constituencies. The League circles say the fight is on the issue of Pakistan and Akhand Hindustan. It is immaterial who are their candidates.

NOMINATION PAPERS SIGNED

PESHAWAR, July 11

Savarkar Supports Congress In N. W. F. P.

BOMBAY, Sunday.

An advice to Hindu Sangatanists to capture as many places of vantage as possible in the political machinery of the land whether in the Legislatures or in the Ministry or in the Executive Council within the scope of the fundamental principles laid down by him, is tendered by Mr. V. D. Savarkar, President of the All-India Hindu Mahasabha, in the course of a lengthy statement.

Mr. Savarkar added: "Hindu interest in different provinces require different tactics to be adopted. In Bengal for example the Provincial Hindu Sabha feels strong enough to pull down the League-led Ministry and in N. W. F. P. the Hindu Sabhaite leaders feel it more advantageous to join hands with the Congressmen and run the elections together. If the Congressmen carry out their pledge of defending legitimate Hindu interests there, well it is perfectly justifiable. In Sind the Hindu Mahasabha is actually supporting a League-Hindu Mahasabha Ministry as Hindu interest could better be served in that way."—United Press.

R. A. F. ATTACK ON AKYAB

Rivercraft On Irrawady Machine-Gunned

NEW DELHI, July 11.

An India Command joint war "communique" says:—On Saturday morning R. A. F. Vengeances escorted by fighters attacked objectives on Akyab Island and other aircraft machine-gunned rivercraft on the Irrawaddy and enemy motor transport on the Prome-Taungup road. None of our aircraft is missing.

U. S. AIRFORCE ATTACKS

On Saturday Fighter-Bombers of the 10th U. S. Air Force continued their attacks against Japanese installations in northern Burma, says a "communique" issued from Rear Echelon Headquarters United States Army Forces. China, Burma India. It adds: Sumprabum and Maungkan 110 miles west of Kamaing were the targets for bombing attacks. Direct hits were reported on three large buildings at Sumprabum. All bombs fell in the target area at Maungkan.

Enemy installations at Tamanthi 92 miles south-west of Kamaing were strafed. A large fire was left burning.

FAITH IN DESTINY KEEPS UP CHINA

That it was sheer faith in the destiny of China that had kept the Chinese from losing hope, had made them fight on for long years and had given them the confidence to fight for many more years, if need be till the Japanese invader was driven out, was the view expressed by Mr. C. T. T'Siang, Chinese Consul in Bombay on Sunday morning, under the auspices of the Marathi Progressive Writers' Association and other organisations. Mr P. R. Lele presided.

China had entered into the seventh year of her war. They could not say they had everything and that they would be able to carry on. They wanted help—the help of India, both spiritual and material. He felt that if China and India had faith in each other and in their cause they would help to create a better world, at least a better Asia.

NEVER TRUST JAPAN

Mr. Lin, editor of "Trimune" of Singapore, now a refugee in this country gave an account of his experiences in China and Malaya and stated that Japan could never be trusted in her professions.

Mr. Prabhakar Padhye, Mr. D. Sakrikar and Mr. Anant Kanekar also spoke.

INDIA'S ASPIRATION

Mr. P. R. Lele in the course of his remarks stated that India's intense interest in and sympathy for China was not purely ultruism but enlightened egoism. India wished China to win the war and be free as soon as possible, because there seemed to be little hope of India becoming free before the end of the war.

MADAME CHIANG'S NARROW ESCAPE

CHUNGKING, July 10.

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek disclosed that she came perilously close to becoming a Japanese prisoner, when on the return flight to China the American crew mistook a Japanese airfield in Burma for an airfield in India.

Just before landing the pilot decided to turn back. The petrol tank developed a leak and when the plane finally landed in India the tank was practically empty.—Reuter.

HINDI PRESS IS WORST SUFFERER

CALCUTTA, July 10.

Measures adopted by Government "restricting the freedom of the Press in the country were criticised by Pandit Indra, Vidyava Vachaspati, editor of "Vir Arjun", presiding at the third annual conference of the All-India Hindi Journalists' Association held here to-day.

In this connection, he made a special reference to the condition of the Hindi Press which, he thought, had been the worst sufferer in this respect.

The speaker suggested some steps to be taken by the association for helping those journals and journalists affected by restrictions imposed on them by Government from time to time. He also advocated greater pay and more comfortable living conditions for journalists.—A. P.

BATTLE FOR KURSK

Nazi Tanks Retreat After A Break-Through

Kluge's Plan To Trap 30 Red Divisions Fails

LONDON, July 11.

From Reuter's special correspondent at Moscow: The great battle for the Kursk "bulge" has entered its most intense stage so far. Both north and south of the bulge, the Germans launched new attacks on a large-scale on Sunday following a regrouping of their forces and the arrival of reinforcements of tanks, planes and ground troops. At one place in a sector south of Orel some groups of German tanks broke through the Soviet frontlines. They were later wiped out or forced to retreat after suffering heavy losses.

BIGGEST BATTLES OF WAR

In the Byelgorod sector the biggest battle since the start of the German offensive were fought out on Saturday according to the "Red Star."

NAZIS LOSE 2,601 TANKS

LONDON, July 11: Reuter's special correspondent in Moscow in his special despatch says:—Though von Kluge, the German Commander has hurled in fresh reinforcements of tanks, planes and ground troops, he has so far failed to achieve any important operational success in the great battle of the Kursk bulge now a week old. The huge losses he has suffered in men and material must be beginning to strain his resources though there has yet been no slackening in the force of the attack. In the first six days of the offensive the German losses in tanks totalled 2,601 and in planes 1,037.

WEDGE INTO SOVIET DEFENCES DEEPENS

Frontline reports on Sunday suggest that the Germans yesterday may somewhat have enlarged or rather deepened the wedge driven into the Russian defences along the Byelgorod-Kursk railway and also in a north-easterly direction from Byelgorod. But the decisive phrase of the overnight Soviet 'communique' was: We are keeping the enemy engaged." The implication is that Soviet defence is hitting back powerfully and resourcefully and that the Tiger-headed Panzer fists are unable to tear forward in an uncontrolled fashion. The position is difficult but in no way out of hand.

REDS ORGANISE COUNTER-ATTACKS

The Red Army has now had time to organise its counter-attack against the German wedge and bring up reserves of men and guns. It has also been throwing in its own tanks in larger numbers. The heaviest fighting is taking place at the base of the wedge and at the northern tip, 20 miles from Byelgorod. Here bloody battles are swaying to and from over a number of villages and across one huge state farm. The Russians are hanging on to their strong points on the flanks of the wedge. Both north and south of the salient the position can be described as not unsatisfactory for the Russians.

SOVIET CONFIDENCE MAINTAINED

Complete absence of alarm or nervousness at the Soviet front and confidence in the Red Army's ability to defeat the German attack are reflected in all war despatches to-day. There is more evidence to hand that the Germans hoped for quick results in their offensive which aimed at trapping some 20 to 30 Soviet divisions and laming the Red Army's power of attack before the Allies could intervene on the Continent. The German command has not yet given up its plan. It is too early yet, said the "Pravda" today, to reach a conclusion about the outcome "but no matter what happens, what difficult stages the battle may bring victory will be ours."—Reuter.

BEGINNING OF THE END

The Allied assault on Sicily is just in time and, well conceived strategically, has begun well, too. The Germans are now fully committed in Russia where they must press on with their offensive without the alternative of drawing back. They have also been threatening the Russian defences rather seriously. This was the last hour for Russia's Anglo-American Allies to strike. They have struck. The choice of the objective, at least in the Mediterranean area, leaves nothing to desire. Of all the Mediterranean bastions of the Axis underbelly Sicily is the nearest and safest to approach from the main Allied bases in North Africa. And it is the most vital for the Axis, too, because the loss of Sicily would be to the defence of Italy what the loss of the Low countries and northern France would be to the defence of Western Germany. In Sicily, therefore, the Axis forces will have to concentrate their main strength for a major effort. The present invasion will thus very soon expose Sardinia and other Axis bastions to Allied assaults.

And the Allies do not lack resources for all this. They have air and naval command over the Mediterranean, in which connection it is interesting to note that since the main area of Allied landings is between Catania and Syracuse on the south-east coast of Italy, Mussolini's fleet, already weakened and demoralised will presently be split without any possibility of joining up. General Eisenhower has in fact bottled up one half of the Italian Navy in the Tyerhenian Sea and the other half way to the east in the Adriatic, a strategy which ensures complete Allied supremacy on sea everywhere in the Mediterranean. The situation is equally favourable in the air. Allied Air Forces struck a crippling blow on the Luftwaffe and the Regia Aeronautica in North Africa. With the superiority that they established they have since then been hammering at the enemy air forces all over the underbelly. The result is that the Axis is greatly weakened while, on the other hand, the American and British Air Forces have been continuously and powerfully reinforced. To-day they are practically supreme in the Mediterranean. As to land forces it is noteworthy that according to semi-official reports the Allies operating from Tunisia can easily overwhelm the 400,000 Axis troops in Sicily and continue reinforcing their troops as and when needed. There is also a whole Allied Army comparable to General Eisenhower's under General Wilson in the Middle East complete with its own air and naval arms.

The situation could not have been more favourable. But that is not to say that victory is round the corner. The battle is only just beginning. It is far from fully joined yet. And there is going to be hard, bitter and grievous fighting before any significant progress is made. The Axis is very much weakened undoubtedly. But it is fighting on its home ground which has been well prepared and which is not, like Tunisia, cut off from its innumerable bases. Now it will not yield even an inch easily. What the Allies must, and their leaders obviously do, expect is clear from reports that Axis resistance is perceptibly stiffening and increasing in fierceness. Indeed, looking at the operations soberly, it is a matter of congratulations that none of the initial landings has so far met with any reverse. This success, as the battle develops, will not continue unmixed with failures. But one thing is certain. The Allies have at long last passed to the offensive, the grand offensive, which General Eisenhower has correctly described as the Battle of Europe. The launching of this offensive recalls to mind the dark days of only a few years ago. Those were days when the one and only reality of the war was Hitler—and let us add, his henchman, Mussolini—on the offensive. The one matter for inevitable speculation was when and where in Europe, Asia and Africa, he would strike next. To-day everything is changed. It is Hitler and Mussolini who must bear blows and wonder. For, there is no end or geographical limitation to further blows that are imminent. Sicily is not the only immediate objective of Eisenhower. And General Wilson has yet to move. Most important of all there is an Army in Britain. Thanks to the magnificent fight given by Russia, America and Britain have now been able to stage the final climacteric of the war in Europe. In President Roosevelt's words "it is the beginning of the end." But the end will be long and very hard fought.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

Indian Aviation

The Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce has given a much-needed reminder to the Government of India about the need for formulating a definite national policy for the development of aviation. As air services have to be licensed and many of them may need subsidies, the Federation rightly suggests that the internal subsidised services should be under Indian ownership, control and management and that in any scheme of international air schemes involving India she should have due control. These are most reasonable conditions and should not be denied to India. India now possesses enough capital, enterprise and technical labour to meet substantially her needs for civil and military aviation, if only Government follow a national policy in this matter.

Slaughter Of Cattle

Milk is getting dearer almost everywhere in the country and it is due as much to growing scarcity as to inflation. The scarcity seems to be the result of indiscriminate slaughter of cattle to feed the military. The Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and several provincial Chambers have drawn the attention of Government to such slaughter but it does not appear that the evil is declining. Commenting on the conditions in Bihar, the "Searchlight" writes: "Contractors and their agents are abroad in the villages making purchases of large number of all kinds of cattle, train-loads of which are seen going almost every day out of this province to be slaughtered for the sake of meat. It is not that old, infirm and useless cattle alone are being slaughtered. Numerous young good and healthy cattle, too, are being put to butcher's knife every day." The evil is widespread and is growing but we are not sure Government are taking adequate measures to remedy it. If it is not stopped betimes milk will be extremely scarce and that will seriously damage the health of the people, particularly of children.

A Sound Plan

The Bengal Legislative Assembly has done a service by adopting a resolution urging Government to encourage spinning by Charkha and weaving by semi-automatic weaving machine, by establishing many demonstration centres, supplying spinning wheels and weaving machines on hire-purchase system to all unemployed or partly unemployed people and by arranging supply of cotton at concession rates. Hand-spinning was never more profitable or necessary than it is now, and nowhere more so than in Bengal. If the plan suggested requires considerable organisation and initial outlay the Government are capable of providing both. There is no politics in the scheme, which is humanitarian and yet economically sound. If the Bengal Government adopt the plan, they will be setting a good example to other Governments, whose need for a similar plan is not much less.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Professor A. S. Vichnevsky, head of the surgical department of the Soviet Neurological Clinic, has successfully transplanted nerves taken from corpses to living persons. A wounded Red Army officer was recently hospitalised after a mine splinter tore out part of a muscle and a section of the main motor nerve in his arm. Because the severed ends of the nerve were separated by approximately five-eighths of an inch, it could not be sewn together.

Professor Vichnevsky used a piece of nerve from a man who had been killed in an accident. The transplanted nerve took root successfully and the wounded officer was later able to use his arm as if it had not been injured. To-day he is in active service at the front.—U. S. O. W. I.

National Progress Through Communal Unity

Appeal By President Of Bengal Hindu-Muslim Association And Other Leaders

CALCUTTA, July 11.

"On no pretext whatsoever can the prevailing consensus of opinion countenance the erection of the foundation of a divided India on any novel method of individualism" said the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad, President of the All-Bengal Hindu-Muslim Unity Association, presiding over the sixth anniversary celebration of the Association to-day. "We have had enough of spirited sophism, useless blustering and sabre-rattling," he added.

"Now the time has come, when the thought uppermost in the mind of everyone, whether Hindu or Muslim, should be to stand steadfastly united together. Much has been said by some people in favour of Pakistan and its implications. Attractive though it might have been so far it has not been received with acclamation, nor perhaps, judging from the Muslim viewpoint, is it ever likely to find room in the estimation of the entire Muslim community.

"Be it this or any other cry raised which possibly strikes at the root of Hindu-Muslim unity and solidarity, or tends to separate one community from the other, places Indians in a sad predicament and is therefore not commensurate with India's national demand. It is the outcome of narrow-minded statesmanship based on the policy of isolation not conducive to the wellbeing of United India. Indians cannot hope to reach the ultimate goal towards which they are heading unless and until they advance hand-in-hand together in that direction.

"It, therefore, behoves India to proceed on lines of universal brotherhood. The two major communities should sink their differences, whatever they may be, in order that nothing may stand in the way of the building up of an all-parties constitution unanimously agreed upon, on the strength of which only can a National Government of India be securely established."

A message emphasising the necessity for communal harmony has been issued by about fifty leaders of Bengal on the occasion of the anniversary. The signatories include Messrs. Fazlul Huq, N. R. Sarker, Kiron Sanker Roy, Syer Nausher Ali, Speaker of the Bengal Legislative Assembly, Dr. Shyama Prosad Mookerjee, Sir A. H. Ghuznavi, the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad, the Maharaja of Burdwan and others.—A. P.

Bombay Students' Union

Mr. Arvind Mehta, Gen. Secretary, Bombay Students' Union writes:—

A certain group of students, headed by Atul Mehta and Anil Mavani have been spreading false rumours about a general body meeting of the Bombay Students' Union to be held on the 12th at the Marwari Vidyalaya Hall.

The Executive Committee of the B. S. U. declares that this so-called general body meeting is unauthorised. It is just one more disruptive move by the same group of students who had resigned from the Executive in January 1943 and attempted to raid the B. S. U. office a few weeks' later.

At the beginning of this month, the Executive Committee decided to hold a conference of Bombay students at the end of August. This would give every honest and serious-minded student the fullest opportunity to voice his views and help him to shape the policy of the Union after a thorough discussion of the issues facing the country.

It is this conference which this disruptive group has opposed from the beginning. They dare afraid of a conference because they are not to face the mass of the students with their policy.

That is why they try their best to sabotage the Conference with all kinds of cheap tricks. On the 9th of July, the Executive Committee suspended the Joint Secretary, Manu Damani, because he put his signature on the admission card for the bogus General Body meeting to be held on the 12th. After this, he was naturally refused the use of the B. S. U. membership rolls. He and his group then snatched away the rolls and took to their heels. Stories of his being 'roughly-handled' are a lie.

There is no cause for alarm. This cheap trick will not help the disruptors to sabotage the coming conference and elections. The counterfoils of the membership receipts are safe—a new roll is being prepared.

The Executive Committee warns all students against the futile intrigues of this group and calls upon all serious and honest students to give them a sharp rebuff by preparing for the coming conference in all earnestness.

Alleged Rough Handling Of Students' Workers

The regrettable incidents that took place at the office of the Bombay Students' Union (38 Harvey Road) on the 9th instant, when Com. Manu Damani, the Secretary of the Union, and Com. C. B. Master, member of the Executive Committee of the Union were roughly handled by the Communists, throw a flood of light on the desperate attempts of the Communist clique to retain power. We have no hesitation in condemning the action of these persons who are supposed to be responsible workers in the student movement. Surely this is not the way to retain the hold on the student union or the student movement. Students will not take lying low these insults hurled at their popular workers. We wish all success to the efforts of the nationalist students and exhort the members of the Union to rally in hundreds at the forthcoming meeting at the Marwari Vidyalaya Hall on the 12th inst., at 6-30 p.m. to cry halt to these disruptive tactics of the Communist group among the students.

Bombay Provincial Co-operative Institute

From a tiny little seed (the Bombay Co-operative Library) the Bombay Provincial Co-operative Institute has grown into a mature banyan tree and within twenty-five years it has grown to such an outstanding importance that nearly all the co-operative institutions in the Province have come under the shade of this federal institutions. After being affiliated to All-India Co-operative Institute's Association it has been taking a leading part in its working and in the All-India Co-operative Conferences. Not only that but it has also become an important member of the International Co-operative Alliance. Co-operators everywhere will congratulate this apex Co-operative Institute on its ever-increasing importance.

The Institute which is now in sole charge of Co-operative education and propaganda has been arranging regular training classes, refreshers' classes for members, Panchayatdars and the field staff in the Province and in Indian States. It has been celebrating the annual Co-operators' Day as a real festival in the whole Province. As for the publication of literature, it has been conducting magazines in English and in some regional languages. Useful and instructive books, brochures, conference and other reports have been published by it. Students and writers have also been encouraged and helped in the publication of useful literature on co-operative and allied subjects. The maintenance of a well-stocked up-to-date central library of books and periodicals on co-operation, economics, rural development is a feature of the Institute.

Along with this educational work, co-operative conferences, bank conferences and field workers' conferences are frequently held under its auspices. The advice of experts is obtained and given on complex problems of policy and developments; and on important legal questions free legal opinion is given. On matters affecting the movement referred to it by co-operative institutions and even by Government, it has without fear or favour, voiced its representative opinion to the authorities concerned. Government Officials have freely co-operated with the non-officials in all its work; and for creating such harmony and goodwill the Institute deserves congratulations.

During these twenty-five years, which is but a small period in the life of a nation, it has got its own occasional and perennial difficulties, such as the dearth of workers in rural areas where a strong and healthy movement is a great necessity, insufficiency of funds for its ever-increasing work, etc. In spite of these handicaps co-operators connected with the Institute have in a spirit of self-sacrifice and with faith in co-operative ideals so worked for the Institute that it has become a Parliament of co-operators for the Province including the Indian States; and as such this institution will, in no long time, assume its rightful place in our national life in the post-war period.

There is in front of the Institute, a vast expanse of work to be done and a number of important problems especially created by the world war have to be tackled in the near future. Some of these, regulated marketing of essential commodities, removal of stagnation of credit societies in rural areas, scheme of rural development, Co-operative research and inquiry in collaboration with the Reserve Bank of India and the Rural Development Department, framing of graded general and special courses of co-operation for the workers in the movement and for students at the university, these are some of the problems to be solved. One may hope that these will be dealt with satisfactorily by co-operators working under the new revised constitution of the Institute. With renewed regular efforts to carry out the objects, this federal institution is sure to have a strong and healthy influence on the development of co-operative movement in all its aspects.

The Half-Column By "Dim"

Looking through old papers I find a note made in a train. Somehow I think I have used the story before. But it's good enough to be reproduced a second time. It's the story told of Peter Fleming who while still on his tramp received a telegram from his publisher: "CONGRATULATIONS BRAZILIAN ADVENTURE CHOSEN AS BOOK OF THE MONTH". Fleming wired back: "WHICH MONTH."

"BAB'S MARTYRDOM
Not our BABS who has been ill and is resting, but Bab, founder of Ba'haism . . . Editor (BLITZ)"

* * *

I understand that Messrs. Thacker and Co., are shortly to publish THE CONQUEST OF SEX or the Doctrine of Pramacharya being extracts on all aspects of the subject from the writings and saying of Mahatma Gandhi. The book is edited by B. K. Prabhu and U. Rao, who brought out that fast-selling pamphlet QUIT INDIA, which was later banned, chiefly because of its title. This new book is not a cheap and sensational stunt. It should help to produce some clear thinking on this subject because of the views of a man who renounced all flesh and evolved and practiced Bramacharya.
